This is important information which will help you decide which financial adviser to choose.

WHAT TYPE OF ADVISER ARE WE?

The Bank is a Qualifying Financial Entity ("QFE") for the purposes of the Financial Advisers Act 2008 ("Act").

The Bank, together with its Associated Entities, has formed the ANZ New Zealand QFE Group ("QFE Group"). You can search on the Financial Service Providers Register at www.fspr.govt.nz for further information relating to the QFE Group, including regarding the status of the QFE Group and whether other entities are members of the QFE Group.

The Bank takes responsibility for the financial adviser services provided by certain staff within the QFE Group (known as "QFE Advisers"). This includes making sure that our QFE Advisers exercise care, diligence and skill in providing financial advice to you. QFE Advisers do not have to be individually registered or authorised.

WHAT PRODUCTS AND SERVICES CAN WE ADVISE YOU ON?

Our QFE Advisers have differing levels of specialisation in the products offered by our QFE Group. In some cases, the QFE Adviser you deal with will be able to provide you with financial advice on a wide range of products. In other cases, the QFE Adviser will only be able to provide you with financial advice on one product or a limited number of products. Where a QFE Group staff member is unable to provide you with financial advice on a particular product, that staff member will inform you of this and refer you to a QFE Adviser or Authorised Financial Adviser within the QFE Group who has the specialist skills and training necessary to provide you with financial advice on the relevant product or to a third party adviser.

Below is a summary of the range of products on which our QFE Advisers may be able to provide you with financial advice.

Category 1 Products

Our QFE Advisers may provide financial advice about the following types of Category 1 Products:

- the ANZ KiwiSaver Scheme, issued by ANZ New Zealand Investments Limited;
- certain derivatives issued by the Bank;
- a renewal or variation of the terms or conditions of the products listed above.

Category 2 Products

Our QFE Advisers may provide financial advice about one or more of the following types of Category 2 Products:

- term deposits with the Bank;
- transaction and savings accounts;

- pre-paid foreign currency products;
- consumer credit contracts (for example, a credit card or personal or home loan);
- bonus bonds;
- units in the ANZ PIE Fund;
- insurance products (other than investment linked contracts of insurance) such as general insurance or life insurance;
- a renewal or variation of the terms or conditions of any existing Category 2 Product.

The above Category 2 Products may be provided by the QFE Group or by third parties. We have arrangements with certain third parties, such as Vero Insurance New Zealand Limited and Cigna New Zealand Holdings Limited and its subsidiaries which allow us to offer their Category 2 Products.

General Limitations on Advice and Services

Our QFE Advisers may provide financial advice about those products referred to above. However, they cannot provide financial advice about other products, provide an investment planning service or a discretionary investment management service (DIMS). If you require financial advice in relation to any other financial product, an investment planning service or a discretionary investment management service, we can refer you to an Authorised Financial Adviser.

HOW DO WE GET PAID FOR THE SERVICES THAT WE PROVIDE TO YOU?

Fees

We do not charge a fee for the financial advice our QFE Advisers may provide to you, but when you take up a product we provide or enter into a transaction with us, our QFE Group may benefit if we earn fees and/or other income from those products. If we provide financial advice on a product or service, you will be informed of the initial and ongoing costs of that product or service.

There are other factors which could have a material influence on our QFE Group and QFE Advisers, which are described in the following paragraphs.

Other Remuneration

QFE Advisers

Our QFE Advisers are eligible to receive variable remuneration from the QFE Group in addition to their salary. This may comprise an amount, calculated and paid annually, based on a fixed percentage of their salary and allocated based on the performance of Australia and New Zealand Banking Group Limited (the parent company of the Bank). In addition, some QFE Advisers may be eligible to receive variable remuneration based on business and individual performance. All forms of variable remuneration are subject to the QFE Adviser meeting minimum standards of performance and conduct.

QFE Group

Entities within our QFE Group do not receive remuneration from third parties (such as a product provider) in connection with Category 1 Products about which our QFE Advisers may provide financial advice. Entities within our QFE Group may receive remuneration from third party product providers in connection with Category 2 Products about which our QFE Advisers may provide financial advice.

Relationships

The Bank is one of New Zealand's largest financial institutions and, together with other members of the QFE Group, has banking and other financial relationships with many of the country's public and private entities.
