

Financial Advice Provider Disclosure Statement

This Disclosure Statement provides you with important information about the financial advice services provided by ANZ Bank New Zealand Limited ('ANZ', 'we' or 'us'). This Disclosure Statement was prepared on 30 October 2023.

ABOUT US

ANZ holds a Financial Advice Provider licence issued by the Financial Markets Authority to provide financial advice to retail clients.

ANZ will provide financial advice through nominated representatives or financial advisers directly engaged by ANZ. ANZ will also provide financial advice directly from time to time (for example, through digital solutions).

WHAT FINANCIAL ADVICE SERVICES CAN ANZ PROVIDE?

ANZ can provide financial advice in relation to:

- ANZ bank accounts and term deposits;
- ANZ home loans, personal loans, overdrafts, and credit cards;
- KiwiSaver schemes issued by ANZ New Zealand Investments Limited ('ANZI');
- general insurance (Home, Contents, Car, Boat) issued by Vero Insurance New Zealand Limited;
- the ANZ Investment Funds issued by ANZI;
- the ANZ PIE Fund issued by ANZ Investment Services (New Zealand) Limited;
- ANZ's discretionary investment management service;
- derivatives issued by ANZ; and
- a renewal or variation of the terms or conditions of any of the above products.

ANZ only provides financial advice on products issued by ANZ or its subsidiaries, and the third-party insurance products offered by ANZ as set out above.

WHAT FEES WILL YOU PAY FOR OUR FINANCIAL ADVICE SERVICES?

We do not charge fees for providing financial advice services to you.

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

For the purposes of the Financial Markets Conduct Act 2013, a conflict of interest means any interest of ANZ, ANZI, or persons engaged to give financial advice on our behalf which a client may find likely to materially influence our advice.

A description of potential conflicts of interest relevant to our financial advice service are set out below.

Summary	Description of the potential conflict of interest
KiwiSaver and other managed investment schemes provided by ANZI	ANZI receives fees when a customer invests in a KiwiSaver or other managed investment scheme that it provides. The fee charged is a management fee as a percentage of funds under management. The level of the management fee varies on a fund-by-fund basis. Further details regarding fees are contained in the product disclosure statement for the relevant scheme, or as set out on our webpage for the ANZ Default KiwiSaver Scheme.
Staff remuneration	ANZ's employees are eligible to receive variable remuneration from us in addition to their salary. This may comprise an amount, calculated and paid annually, based on a fixed percentage of their salary and allocated based on the performance of Australia and New Zealand Banking Group Limited (the parent company of ANZ). In addition, some employees may be eligible to receive variable remuneration based on business and individual performance. All awards of variable remuneration are subject to the relevant employee meeting minimum standards of performance and conduct.
ANZ's Markets team	Markets acts as a 'market maker', meaning that it offers prices to enter into transactions relating to a variety of currencies, assets and interest rates (financial instruments) and provides liquidity in those financial instruments. In carrying out these market making activities: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Markets may trade prior to or at the same time as your transaction and may modify and/or terminate its positions or otherwise take action for ANZ's own account to facilitate transactions with other counterparties, to manage risk, to source liquidity or for other reasons;• Markets may be trading in the same or related financial instruments for ANZ's own account that are the same, similar or opposite to your positions; and• ANZ is a contributor bank through its trading activity in the New Zealand bank bills market, which market will determine payments made under some derivative transactions, including New Zealand dollar interest rate swaps.

In addition to the conflicts of interest listed above, if you take up a product or service or enter into a transaction with us, we may benefit if we earn fees and/or other income from those products or services.

ANZ's employees follow certain guidelines when providing financial advice to ensure the product recommended is suitable for the customer. ANZ's employees do not receive incentives linked to the number of products they sell.

COMMISSIONS

ANZ will generally receive a commission when a customer decides to take out an insurance product offered by ANZ or when a customer is referred to and takes out insurance through an insurance partner. The commission will be payable to ANZ by the insurer, and is generally calculated as a percentage of the premium you pay.

ANZ has a number of systems and controls in place to ensure that the conflicts of interest inherent in commissions are managed. For example:

- ANZ regularly reviews the products it offers customers to ensure they remain fit for purpose;
- ANZ's employees receive training on insurance products to ensure insurance is sold or referred appropriately; and
- ANZ's employees follow guidelines when providing financial advice that are designed to ensure the product recommended is suitable for the customer.

WHAT SHOULD YOU DO IF SOMETHING GOES WRONG?

We're serious about providing excellent service. That's why your feedback is so important to us. If you have a problem or concern, we want to know so we can fix it as quickly as possible. We'll try to resolve the issue immediately. However, if we need to investigate the matter in more detail, we'll aim to resolve it to your satisfaction within 5 working days.

If you have a suggestion about how we can do things better, we'd like to hear about it so we can improve our service.
