ANZ announces FastPay – Mobile app for small business customers

Do the job. Get paid. Job done.

ANZ today announced the upcoming launch of ANZ FastPay, a convenient payment solution, allowing merchants to process payments using only their iPhone or Android smartphone.

Offering a fast, simple mobile banking experience, ANZ FastPay will enable small businesses to conveniently complete Visa and Mastercard credit and debit card transactions on the go – anytime, anywhere.

FastPay will give businesses the flexibility to use the app for any period of time without being tied into a long-term contract.

ANZ's Managing Director, Retail and Business Banking, Fred Ohlsson said: "We recognise that our small business customers want to spend time making money not chasing payment. ANZ FastPay is designed to offer them the easiest way to get paid on the job.

"Faster payment means better cashflow management. This is critical to the success of any small business. By listening to how our customers want to bank with us and identifying market and technology trends, we're pleased to be meeting their needs with this innovative solution.

"We're serious about making banking easier for our customers," Mr Ohlsson said.

FastPay follows a number of other successful ANZ mobile apps. In April 2011 ANZ goMoney was launched in New Zealand and within hours became the number one most popular Finance app on iTunes in New Zealand. ANZ recently launched a new goMoney mobile banking app which incorporates several new features suggested by customers.

Over the past year ANZ has also launched Transactive Mobile apps for Android and iPhone devices, allowing commercial customers to remotely monitor real-time account balances, view transactions, approve and release payments and obtain dynamic FX rates.

From later this year, the ANZ FastPay iPhone app will be available for download from the New Zealand iTunes store and the Android version on Google Play.
