Credit reporters collect information about your credit history to help people and companies make a decision whether to provide you goods or services. Debt recovery agencies help people and companies recover money other people owe them when they've failed to pay.

We are required to provide credit reporters with good and bad information about your credit history. Credit reports are an important part of determining your suitability as a borrower. They help confirm your identity, verify your current credit obligations and are used to calculate the likelihood of you meeting your credit repayments.

You agree credit reporters and debt recovery agencies can keep any information we give them about you, and can give it to people who pay for and use their services. You can ask credit reporters and debt recovery agencies to correct your information if it needs to be updated.
