ANZ opens doors at new Greenlane branch

ANZ today celebrated the opening of its new branch in Greenlane, Auckland, repositioning its branch to be accessible to more people.

The branch has moved to a new location at on the corner of Rockfield and Great South Roads, situated in the brand new Bradfords building, making it easier for customers in Penrose, Greenlane and Ellerslie to do their banking.

The branch was opened by Andrew Webster, General Manager Auckland Region, Hon Peseta Sam Lotu-Iiga, Councillor Denise Krum and Warren Eaton, ANZ Greenlane Branch Manager at a breakfast function today.

Fred Ohlsson, ANZ's Managing Director, Retail and Business Banking, said it's great to be part of a thriving community, and the investment in this new branch reaffirms the long-standing commitment to the area.

"With this branch, we're moving to a great location for both our personal and business customers and our top team of experts are looking forward to helping them continue the story of success and progress in this area," he said.

The branch has a 15-strong team including mobile managers, business bankers, and home lenders. It also features a Smart ATM which accepts cash and cheque deposits as well as the standard withdrawals in a 24-hour lobby, making it easy for customers to access cash at any time of day or night.

"Our specialist staff speak a range of languages, including Cantonese, Hindi and Mandarin, so customers can talk to us about their banking needs in the language they're most comfortable using," Mr Eaton said.

The branch is open 9am – 4.30pm, Monday to Friday.
